

True Sport Clean 101 e-learning Course & Therapeutic Use Exemption

The True Sport Clean 101 e-learning Course is now ready. This course is mandatory for all Canada Games athletes to complete.

The course is untracked, so it is the provincial sport organization and Team Alberta's responsibility to ensure that every Canada Games Team Alberta athletes complete the course and provide a certificate of completion to the coach or sport coordinator which in turn is forwarded on to Team Alberta Mission Staff Michelle Deering who is responsible for registration.

If you have taken another version of the CCES' e-learning course (USports/CCAA/National Athlete Pool) you do not need to complete again but you are required to provide proof of completion by sending a screen shot of the certificate to your coach or sport coordinator (see USports/CCAA/National Athlete Pool information).

True Sport Clean 101 e-learning Course Instructions

Canada Games athletes, first time to take the course:

1. Complete the course and the True Sport Clean Quiz
<http://cces.ca/truesportclean101untracked>
2. Take a screen shot of the certificate
3. Send copy of certificate to coach or sport coordinator to confirm completion

Canada Games athletes - USports/CCAA/National Athlete Pool

If you are a USports/CCAA/National Athlete Pool athlete, it is most likely you have already completed another version of CCES' e-learning course and been issued a certificate upon completion of the course. If this is the case, you do not need to take the untracked version. However, you are required to provide proof of completion.

1. Re-access the system <https://education.cces.ca/#>
2. Login with username and password
3. Take a screen shot of the certificate
4. Send copy of certificate to coach or sport coordinator to confirm completion

If you are having problems accessing your certificate you can email CCES directly education@cces.ca

Therapeutic Use Exemption

The following is the procedure for Therapeutic Use Exemption (TUE) applications of participants in the Canada Games and it depends on the status of each individual athlete.

1. Athletes who are either in 1) their International Federations Registered Testing Pool (RTP), 2) their Canadian Sport Federation RTP or 3) our National Athlete Pool (NAP) all need to have valid TUEs before competing. That said, being in any RTP or NAP would mean that they should, technically, already have a valid TUE as they are admissible for out of competition testing.
2. For athletes who are not in any RTP or NAP, and only compete domestically (within Canada), they can apply for a retroactive TUE (after the fact). The application form and documentation needed are the same as a regular TUE, but do not need to be sent to us in advance. However, we do recommend that athletes gather all of the required medical information needed in advance as this process can take a long time (depending on the availability of the doctors and if the information needed is readily available).
